Power Of Internships

At Collins, we strive to improve the overall risk profile of large commercial businesses to ensure their insurance programs are valued partnerships rather than a commodity. Professionalism, expertise, resources, and creativity are critical components of a lasting impact on the various industries we serve. Internships are important to provide fresh perspectives and new ideas in an everchanging environment.

Interns at Collins & Associates acquire valuable real-world experience. An intern can expect to train in the following areas:

Develop written EHS materials that promote a safe and compliant workplace.

Implement creative content specific to a client's criteria and needs.

Build relationships with client stakeholders through onsite visits and discussions.

Collaborate with the internal team of professionals to complete projects and drive innovation

We Love Our EHS Graduates!
